

Milk Based Beauty Products

Bathing in milk has been a popular beauty regimen among women for thousands of years. Milk contains lactic acid, a member of the family of alpha-hydroxy acids (AHAs), which break down dead skin cells thereby allowing the skin to rejuvenate itself more quickly. AHAs also act as moisturizers by taking humidity from the air, helping skin absorb this moisture. This results in younger and healthier looking skin.

Why use Goats Milk Soap or Cream?

Soap should be more than just a way to stay clean. It should be an experience. Using a bar of Opulence Organic goat milk soap would fit this definition. This soap glides across your skin, leaving it satin soft.

Our organic goats milk soap offers natural skin cleansing and moisture along with all the natural benefits of creamy, fresh, organic goats milk. Goats milk is a natural emollient that helps soothe and moisturize, with a PH level similar to our own skin it protects the sensitive outer layer proving to be ideal for sensitive skin types.

The natural alpha hydroxy acid content naturally rejuvenates dead skin cells, ultimately slowing down the ageing process. Goats milk has 3 times more beta-caseins than cow's milk. Caseins are easily absorbed into the skin and allow for quick hydration of dry skin.

We make all our soap and body lotions in small controlled batches to ensure a quality product that cannot be commercially duplicated.

Why use Goats Milk Shampoo Bars?

Hair is often damaged and stripped of its natural lipid coating by harsh shampoos, leaving hair dry, brittle and lacking lustre. Well first of all, our shampoo bar is all-natural. Commercial shampoos are NOT. Our shampoo bars only contain the ingredients that they need—not the extra preservatives that liquid shampoos require for their shelf life. Most over the counter shampoos are 97% water! Once water is added to make liquid shampoo, it is almost impossible to create an all natural product and still keep the bacteria and mold out—no need for us to add chemical preservatives.

Natural and Biodegradable

At Opulence we only use the best natural essence and fragrance oils, we use NO preservatives, animal lard or fat in ANY of our products. All our products are therefore guaranteed to be biodegradable. When washing with our organic soaps, very little or no residue forms on the side of your bath, proving that our products are totally water soluble, unlike products that contain animal products.

Differences between Commercial and Handmade Soaps

Commercial soap is usually manufactured using synthetic detergents and chemicals that can strip away the skin's protective oils. One of the most beneficial by-products of the soap making process is the production of glycerin, a humectant that draws moisture to the skin. Large amounts of glycerin is removed in the commercial production process and used to make other beauty products. Only a small quantity of glycerin remains in commercially produced soaps. Commercial soaps are made with artificial ingredients, chemicals and harsh detergents.

Handmade soap however, completely incorporates and retains all of this natural glycerine. Glycerin attracts moisture to your skin and each bar of handmade soap you use is thereby providing your skin with more moisturizing properties than commercial soap. Handmade soaps are blended with nature's own pure vegetable oils, butters, essential oils and organic botanicals.
